

RESIDENT'S CURE FOR STRIKES.

Mr. Roosevelt in a Speech at Sioux Falls Tells Workingmen that Arbitration Is the Way to Settle Labor Disputes and Urges a Model Law.

Conditions Change Rapidly for the Wage-Earners and Organization Is a Good Thing for All Concerned, but State and Nation Can Aid.

SIoux FALLS, S. D., April 6.—In the course of his speech here today in his twelfth trip across the continent, President Roosevelt said some things of great interest to laboring classes. In part, he said:

"There are many, many lesser problems which go to make up in their entirety the huge and complex problems of our modern industrial life. Each of these problems is, moreover, connected with many of the others. Few indeed are simple or stand only by themselves. "The most important are those connected with the relation of the farmers, the stock growers and soil tillers, to the community at large and those affecting the relations between employer and employee. In a country like ours it is fundamentally true that the well-being of the tiller of the soil and the wage-worker is the well-being of the state."

"If they are well off then we need concern ourselves but little as to how other classes stand, for they will inevitably be well off too; and, on the other hand, there can be no real general prosperity unless based on the foundation of the prosperity of the wage-worker and the tiller of the soil."

Good Law for All.

"But the needs of these two classes are often not the same. The tiller of the soil has been of all our citizens the one on the whole the least affected in his ways of life and methods of industry by the great industrial changes of the last half century. There has been change with him too, of course."

"The farmer himself still retains, because of his surroundings and the nature of his work, to a pre-eminent degree the qualities which we like to think of as distinctly American in considering our early history. In our cities, like the capitalists in our cities, face totally changed conditions. The development of machinery and the extraordinary change in business conditions have rendered the employment of capital and of persons in large aggregations not merely profitable but often necessary for success, and have specialized the labor of the wage-worker at the same time that they have brought great aggregations of wage-workers together."

"More and more in our great industrial centers men have come to realize that they cannot live as independently of one another as in the old days was the case everywhere, and as is now the case in the country districts. "Of course, fundamentally each man will find that the chief factor in determining his success or failure in life is the sum of his own individual qualities. He cannot afford to lose his individual initiative, his individual will and power, but he can best use that power if for certain objects he unites with his fellows."

Good for Organization.

"Much can be done by organization, combination, union among the wage-workers; finally something can be done by the direct action of the State. It is not possible empirically to declare when the interference of the State should be deemed legitimate and when illegitimate."

"The line of demarcation between unhealthy overinterference and unhealthy lack of regulation is not always well defined, and shifts with the change in our industrial needs. Most certainly we should never invoke the interference of the State to make the laborer's life more comfortable."

MRS. JEROME SERIOUSLY ILL.

Wife of the District-Attorney in a Precarious Condition at Her Home in Lakeville, Conn., and Husband Is at Bedside.

BRIBERY CASE POSTPONED.

On account of the serious illness of the wife of District-Attorney Jerome, which prevented his attendance at the scheduled hearing of Edward Mills, the lawyer accused of attempting to bribe Assistant District-Attorney Garvan, the case was postponed in Centre Street Court to-day. Mrs. Jerome is at the country home of the District-Attorney in Lakeville, Conn., and so precarious is her condition that he cannot leave her bedside.

Lawyer Steinhart, representing Mills, announced when the hearing was called that it was his desire to secure the personal testimony of the District-Attorney under oath. When the circumstances were explained he asked for an adjournment to April 13, which was granted. On that date Magistrate Pool was sitting in Morrisania Police Court.

Mr. Garvan wanted the bail increased from $500 to $10,000. A crowd of lawyers and other persons interested in the case of the alleged attempt of Mills to bribe his associate to corrupt the office of the District-Attorney were present.

CHARLES H. TOWNSEND, SUICIDE'S FRIEND.

(Continued from First Page.)

In the box that his search disclosed. There were several bank books, a bundle of securities and deeds to property in Washington and other places in the South. There was also a letter addressed to Mr. Townsend and signed by Mrs. Van Weik, asking him to adopt her daughter in case she should die.

On the death of Mrs. Van Weik's father, when she was a child, Royston's father adopted her as a daughter, he having been Mr. Ames's closest friend.

On the elder Royston's deathbed he exacted a promise from his son that he would watch his old friend's daughter and care for her through life.

The boy was still living, though every bone in his body was broken and the back of his skull had been torn off. He was hurried to the Hudson Street Hospital, but the surgeons saw it was useless to operate, his death was a matter of a few minutes.

He died at noon in Hudson Street Hospital. His body was claimed by his parents, who live at No. 217 Thompson street.

Despondency Preyed on Her.

It is believed, however, that despondency, induced by her two unsuccessful marriages, preyed upon her and that the absence of her ten-year-old daughter brought on the suicidal mania. In this connection it is considered peculiar that the daughter, who was now a post-office inspector at St. Louis, by her first husband, G. B. Van Weik, now a post-office inspector at St. Louis, is now travelling in Cuba with her stepfather, the Baron Wolfbauer.

With the body was found a note she had written to Charles H. Townsend, superintendent of the Battery Park Aquarium, and which she had not sent. It read:

My Dear Charles: I shall be delighted to dine with you this evening. Call for me about 7 o'clock. I am sure the evening will be most enjoyable. Sincerely yours, LOUISE.

P. S.—Will send this by messenger, and hope you will get it all right.

Mr. Townsend, who lives at No. 17 West Thirty-fifth street, knew Mrs. Van Weik better, perhaps, than any other person in New York. Concerning her he said:

Was Lonely and Friendless.

"Her life has been a very unhappy one. Only three weeks ago she cried and told me how lonely and friendless she was. She had been married twice and divorced twice," he said. "In neither of the men did I find a friend."

Package for Mr. Townsend.

Among the papers found in Mrs. Van Weik's room at the hotel was a receipt for an express package which had been sent to Mr. Townsend at the New York Aquarium on Saturday. Mr. Townsend told the Chief of Police that he had not seen the package and did not know what the package contained.

Chief Murphy subsequently made inquiries and was told that the package had not been delivered at the Aquarium. There was also found a photograph of a man which was said to resemble Royston.

Mr. Townsend said he would comply with Mrs. Van Weik's appeal to adopt her daughter.

There was a most successful man hunt in West Eighteenth street this afternoon. A lot of disorderly strikers were being hunted by the police. Twelve prisoners were taken and locked up in the West Thirtieth street station.

The arrests had some farce-comedy attachments and served to highly amuse the large crowd of women who were about in the shopping district.

The trouble arose at Hunter's restaurant, Nos. 112 and 114 West Eighteenth street, where the strikers were being hunted by the police. The strikers were being hunted by the police. The strikers were being hunted by the police.

There was a most successful man hunt in West Eighteenth street this afternoon. A lot of disorderly strikers were being hunted by the police. Twelve prisoners were taken and locked up in the West Thirtieth street station.

The arrests had some farce-comedy attachments and served to highly amuse the large crowd of women who were about in the shopping district.

The trouble arose at Hunter's restaurant, Nos. 112 and 114 West Eighteenth street, where the strikers were being hunted by the police. The strikers were being hunted by the police. The strikers were being hunted by the police.

There was a most successful man hunt in West Eighteenth street this afternoon. A lot of disorderly strikers were being hunted by the police. Twelve prisoners were taken and locked up in the West Thirtieth street station.

The arrests had some farce-comedy attachments and served to highly amuse the large crowd of women who were about in the shopping district.

The trouble arose at Hunter's restaurant, Nos. 112 and 114 West Eighteenth street, where the strikers were being hunted by the police. The strikers were being hunted by the police. The strikers were being hunted by the police.

There was a most successful man hunt in West Eighteenth street this afternoon. A lot of disorderly strikers were being hunted by the police. Twelve prisoners were taken and locked up in the West Thirtieth street station.

The arrests had some farce-comedy attachments and served to highly amuse the large crowd of women who were about in the shopping district.

The trouble arose at Hunter's restaurant, Nos. 112 and 114 West Eighteenth street, where the strikers were being hunted by the police. The strikers were being hunted by the police. The strikers were being hunted by the police.

There was a most successful man hunt in West Eighteenth street this afternoon. A lot of disorderly strikers were being hunted by the police. Twelve prisoners were taken and locked up in the West Thirtieth street station.

The arrests had some farce-comedy attachments and served to highly amuse the large crowd of women who were about in the shopping district.

The trouble arose at Hunter's restaurant, Nos. 112 and 114 West Eighteenth street, where the strikers were being hunted by the police. The strikers were being hunted by the police. The strikers were being hunted by the police.

There was a most successful man hunt in West Eighteenth street this afternoon. A lot of disorderly strikers were being hunted by the police. Twelve prisoners were taken and locked up in the West Thirtieth street station.

The arrests had some farce-comedy attachments and served to highly amuse the large crowd of women who were about in the shopping district.

The trouble arose at Hunter's restaurant, Nos. 112 and 114 West Eighteenth street, where the strikers were being hunted by the police. The strikers were being hunted by the police. The strikers were being hunted by the police.

BOY FALLS 100 FEET TO DEATH.

Blinded by Steam, He Steps Into Opening on New Hall of Records and Crashes Through Scaffold Into Sub-Cellar.

EVERY BONE WAS BROKEN.

Fellow-Workmen on the Building Fleed from the Scene and Refused to Go On with Their Work, Saying that They Are Too Nervous.

James Pape, a seventeen-year-old boy, fell one hundred feet to death from the new hall of records building to-day.

He was working with a gang of stone carvers on a scaffolding above the sixth floor on the Centre street side. Across the street an exhaust pipe of one of the subway power plants was ejecting volumes of steam, which the wind carried over against the Hall of Records.

Pape, blinded by the vapor as he was walking along the narrow scaffolding, stepped into an opening and plunged down. The carvers heard his scream and, looking down, saw his body hurtling through the air. He fell in close to the building, crashing through a work of scaffolding along the entire front of the structure.

The boy was still living, though every bone in his body was broken and the back of his skull had been torn off. He was hurried to the Hudson Street Hospital, but the surgeons saw it was useless to operate, his death was a matter of a few minutes.

He died at noon in Hudson Street Hospital. His body was claimed by his parents, who live at No. 217 Thompson street.

Despondency Preyed on Her.

It is believed, however, that despondency, induced by her two unsuccessful marriages, preyed upon her and that the absence of her ten-year-old daughter brought on the suicidal mania. In this connection it is considered peculiar that the daughter, who was now a post-office inspector at St. Louis, by her first husband, G. B. Van Weik, now a post-office inspector at St. Louis, is now travelling in Cuba with her stepfather, the Baron Wolfbauer.

With the body was found a note she had written to Charles H. Townsend, superintendent of the Battery Park Aquarium, and which she had not sent. It read:

My Dear Charles: I shall be delighted to dine with you this evening. Call for me about 7 o'clock. I am sure the evening will be most enjoyable. Sincerely yours, LOUISE.

P. S.—Will send this by messenger, and hope you will get it all right.

Mr. Townsend, who lives at No. 17 West Thirty-fifth street, knew Mrs. Van Weik better, perhaps, than any other person in New York. Concerning her he said:

Was Lonely and Friendless.

"Her life has been a very unhappy one. Only three weeks ago she cried and told me how lonely and friendless she was. She had been married twice and divorced twice," he said. "In neither of the men did I find a friend."

Package for Mr. Townsend.

Among the papers found in Mrs. Van Weik's room at the hotel was a receipt for an express package which had been sent to Mr. Townsend at the New York Aquarium on Saturday. Mr. Townsend told the Chief of Police that he had not seen the package and did not know what the package contained.

Chief Murphy subsequently made inquiries and was told that the package had not been delivered at the Aquarium. There was also found a photograph of a man which was said to resemble Royston.

Mr. Townsend said he would comply with Mrs. Van Weik's appeal to adopt her daughter.

There was a most successful man hunt in West Eighteenth street this afternoon. A lot of disorderly strikers were being hunted by the police. Twelve prisoners were taken and locked up in the West Thirtieth street station.

The arrests had some farce-comedy attachments and served to highly amuse the large crowd of women who were about in the shopping district.

The trouble arose at Hunter's restaurant, Nos. 112 and 114 West Eighteenth street, where the strikers were being hunted by the police. The strikers were being hunted by the police. The strikers were being hunted by the police.

There was a most successful man hunt in West Eighteenth street this afternoon. A lot of disorderly strikers were being hunted by the police. Twelve prisoners were taken and locked up in the West Thirtieth street station.

The arrests had some farce-comedy attachments and served to highly amuse the large crowd of women who were about in the shopping district.

The trouble arose at Hunter's restaurant, Nos. 112 and 114 West Eighteenth street, where the strikers were being hunted by the police. The strikers were being hunted by the police. The strikers were being hunted by the police.

There was a most successful man hunt in West Eighteenth street this afternoon. A lot of disorderly strikers were being hunted by the police. Twelve prisoners were taken and locked up in the West Thirtieth street station.

The arrests had some farce-comedy attachments and served to highly amuse the large crowd of women who were about in the shopping district.

The trouble arose at Hunter's restaurant, Nos. 112 and 114 West Eighteenth street, where the strikers were being hunted by the police. The strikers were being hunted by the police. The strikers were being hunted by the police.

There was a most successful man hunt in West Eighteenth street this afternoon. A lot of disorderly strikers were being hunted by the police. Twelve prisoners were taken and locked up in the West Thirtieth street station.

The arrests had some farce-comedy attachments and served to highly amuse the large crowd of women who were about in the shopping district.

The trouble arose at Hunter's restaurant, Nos. 112 and 114 West Eighteenth street, where the strikers were being hunted by the police. The strikers were being hunted by the police. The strikers were being hunted by the police.

There was a most successful man hunt in West Eighteenth street this afternoon. A lot of disorderly strikers were being hunted by the police. Twelve prisoners were taken and locked up in the West Thirtieth street station.

The arrests had some farce-comedy attachments and served to highly amuse the large crowd of women who were about in the shopping district.

The trouble arose at Hunter's restaurant, Nos. 112 and 114 West Eighteenth street, where the strikers were being hunted by the police. The strikers were being hunted by the police. The strikers were being hunted by the police.

There was a most successful man hunt in West Eighteenth street this afternoon. A lot of disorderly strikers were being hunted by the police. Twelve prisoners were taken and locked up in the West Thirtieth street station.

The arrests had some farce-comedy attachments and served to highly amuse the large crowd of women who were about in the shopping district.

The trouble arose at Hunter's restaurant, Nos. 112 and 114 West Eighteenth street, where the strikers were being hunted by the police. The strikers were being hunted by the police. The strikers were being hunted by the police.

There was a most successful man hunt in West Eighteenth street this afternoon. A lot of disorderly strikers were being hunted by the police. Twelve prisoners were taken and locked up in the West Thirtieth street station.

The arrests had some farce-comedy attachments and served to highly amuse the large crowd of women who were about in the shopping district.

The trouble arose at Hunter's restaurant, Nos. 112 and 114 West Eighteenth street, where the strikers were being hunted by the police. The strikers were being hunted by the police. The strikers were being hunted by the police.

There was a most successful man hunt in West Eighteenth street this afternoon. A lot of disorderly strikers were being hunted by the police. Twelve prisoners were taken and locked up in the West Thirtieth street station.

The arrests had some farce-comedy attachments and served to highly amuse the large crowd of women who were about in the shopping district.

The trouble arose at Hunter's restaurant, Nos. 112 and 114 West Eighteenth street, where the strikers were being hunted by the police. The strikers were being hunted by the police. The strikers were being hunted by the police.

DISCHARGED, HE SHOT EMPLOYER.

Painter Puts Two Bullets in Boss's Head and Then Takes Refuge in the Marsh Near Canarsie.

VICTIM LIKELY TO DIE.

Assailant Surrounded in Swamp by Police and Captured Where He Stuck in Mud—Wounded Man's Friends Threatens to Lynch.

Philip Rupert, a painter, refused to be discharged, and when his boss, John Hoch, of No. 60 Morgan avenue, Brooklyn, became persistent to-day in demanding that the discharge go into immediate effect Rupert shot him twice in the head. Hoch is in a precarious condition in St. Mary's Hospital, Brooklyn, and Rupert is under arrest.

Hoch and a gang of men were engaged in painting a cottage in Flatlands avenue, Canarsie. Rupert made his appearance with the marks of a hard Sunday apparent and scattered paint all over the place. Finally Hoch told him to take his brushes and depart.

Rupert went across the street, hurling curses at Hoch. After a time he returned and insisted upon going to work. Hoch approached him with a threat to throw him out of the yard when Rupert drew a revolver and fired twice.

After the shooting Rupert fled to the Canarsie marshes, where he became stuck in the mud so thoroughly that policemen had no difficulty in trailing him. It was with difficulty that the workmen under Hoch were restrained from taking the punishment of Rupert into their own hands.

Rupert says Hoch tried to hit him with a hammer. From what the police learned this afternoon there may have been more behind the shooting than a fight over the discharge of Rupert by Hoch. It appears that up to a few months ago the men were partners in a paint shop in Brooklyn and the dissolution of the partnership was not amicable.

Rupert was taken to St. Mary's Hospital to be identified, but Hoch was unconscious and the chances are that he will never rally.

GEN. PORTER'S WIFE IS DEAD.

Chill Followed by Congestion of the Lungs Proves Fatal and the American Ambassador to France Is Prostrated.

HER DEATH CAME SUDDENLY.

PARIS, April 6.—Mrs. Horace Porter, wife of the American Ambassador to France, died here this afternoon very suddenly. She had a chill which forced her to take to her bed and shortly thereafter she suffered an attack of congestion of the lungs, which resulted in her immediate death.

Mrs. Porter returned from Switzerland only a few days ago, after a stay of some weeks there for her health. She appeared to be much improved in health, but it was not until to-day that her condition was regarded as really serious. The Ambassador is completely prostrated.

Gen. Porter has been the American Ambassador here ever since President McKinley's first term, and Mrs. Porter has been with him. She has been of great assistance to him in the social duties which have devolved upon him, and in diplomatic and high French circles she was extremely popular.

For a number of years Mrs. Porter had not been strong. Last year when her husband returned to the United States for a brief visit she did not accompany him, as she feared the long sea trip. Her lungs had given her friends much cause for worry.

Miss Porter, the only daughter of Gen. and Mrs. Porter, Gen. Winslow, Gen. Porter's brother, and the Ambassador were with her when she died. It is presumed that the body will be taken to America for interment, but of course no arrangements have as yet been made. Diplomatic and official circles are greatly shocked by the news. Messages of condolence have been forwarded to the Embassy by President Loubet and all the foreign representatives.

Dead Men Look Alike.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., April 6.—The bodies of two men found in the river here Saturday resemble each other so closely that the police think they are related. Each is the same in age, weight, build, color of hair and mustache. Neither has yet been identified. The bodies were found six miles apart, and had been in the water some time.

There was a most successful man hunt in West Eighteenth street this afternoon. A lot of disorderly strikers were being hunted by the police. Twelve prisoners were taken and locked up in the West Thirtieth street station.

The arrests had some farce-comedy attachments and served to highly amuse the large crowd of women who were about in the shopping district.

The trouble arose at Hunter's restaurant, Nos. 112 and 114 West Eighteenth street, where the strikers were being hunted by the police. The strikers were being hunted by the police. The strikers were being hunted by the police.

There was a most successful man hunt in West Eighteenth street this afternoon. A lot of disorderly strikers were being hunted by the police. Twelve prisoners were taken and locked up in the West Thirtieth street station.

The arrests had some farce-comedy attachments and served to highly amuse the large crowd of women who were about in the shopping district.

The trouble arose at Hunter's restaurant, Nos. 112 and 114 West Eighteenth street, where the strikers were being hunted by the police. The strikers were being hunted by the police. The strikers were being hunted by the police.

There was a most successful man hunt in West Eighteenth street this afternoon. A lot of disorderly strikers were being hunted by the police. Twelve prisoners were taken and locked up in the West Thirtieth street station.

The arrests had some farce-comedy attachments and served to highly amuse the large crowd of women who were about in the shopping district.

The trouble arose at Hunter's restaurant, Nos. 112 and 114 West Eighteenth street, where the strikers were being hunted by the police. The strikers were being hunted by the police. The strikers were being hunted by the police.

There was a most successful man hunt in West Eighteenth street this afternoon. A lot of disorderly strikers were being hunted by the police. Twelve prisoners were taken and locked up in the West Thirtieth street station.

The arrests had some farce-comedy attachments and served to highly amuse the large crowd of women who were about in the shopping district.

The trouble arose at Hunter's restaurant, Nos. 112 and 114 West Eighteenth street, where the strikers were being hunted by the police. The strikers were being hunted by the police. The strikers were being hunted by the police.

FERRYBOAT BROKE DOWN IN HER SLIP.

Woodwork at Stern Ripped Off, but Passengers Were Forward and Escaped Unhurt.

While the ferryboat John G. Carlisle was entering her slip at Ellis Island shortly after noon to-day her steering gear broke.

The ferryboat swung around and the stern crashed into the piles at the south end of the slip. The ferryboat's overhang for several feet was demolished. Great excitement ensued among the two hundred passengers. As the accident happened to the stern of the boat and all the passengers were clustered on the forward deck, no one was injured.

Capt. McClellan, who was in the pilot house, was slightly injured by the spokes of the steering wheel that flew around when the rudder chain broke. The captain had hold of the wheel with both hands. When the chain broke he was lifted in the air and spun around by the revolving wheel. He fell against one of the windows in the pilot house, smashing it. The captain's coat and vest were pulled off and he was thrown to the floor in his shirt sleeves. His head was severely bruised.

Three Platoons

We beg to announce that with increased facilities and an additional force of expert cutters and skilled tailors we are enabled to assure prompt delivery of all orders for Easter wear. With this increased force, working in three platoons, we can deliver in the afternoon orders left that morning.

Our stock of the season's newest all-wool fabrics is the largest and most varied to be found in the city. All cloths shown in the roll, not in yard lengths.

Suits or $15 Correctly Tailored.

Cohen & Co.

N. W. Cor. Nassau & Ann Sts. Look in at the windows.

CAMMEYER

6th Ave., Cor. 20th St.

EASTER LEATHER GOODS

AWAY BELOW PRICE.

Introductory Sale of Spring Novelties in

Wrist Bags, Chatelaine Bags, Netsuke and Automobile Bags, Purses, Belts, Pocketbooks, Travelling Bags and Trunks.

IN ALL LEATHERS.

The Finest Stock in New York at the Lowest Prices in New York.

Be Sure to Visit This Sale. Don't Think of Purchasing Elsewhere.

WRIST BAGS, in all leathers and colors, formerly $3 and $4 each. $2.00

WRIST BAGS, in genuine seal and tan, gray and black walrus, large and small shapes; gun metal, nickel and gilt frames, silk lined, were $2.00. $1.00

WRIST BAGS, in genuine seal, walrus and alligator; silk and suede lined; all colors and shapes; our regular $1.25 and $1.50 goods 79c

CHATELAINE BAGS of all kinds, seal, walrus and alligator, mounted and plain tops; were $3.00 and $4.00. $2.00

CHATELAINE BAGS, genuine black seal and alligator; small and large shapes; patent catches; plain and mounted frames; formerly $1.00 and $1.25. 69c

BASSWOOD TRUNKS, two styles, iron bound, hardwood slats, muslin lined, two trays, with or without sole leather straps, heavy brass trimmings, three strong hinges; 32, 34 and 36 inches. $7.25

SOLE LEATHER SUIT CASES, linen lined, shirt pocket, straps or bolts, solid brass lock, steel bolt, frame, 22 or 24 in. $5.00

TRAVELLING BAGS and TOILET SETS.

Dr. Koch's Sanitarium. Incorporated for the cure of Asthma, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Deafness, Consumption.

Free Examination Daily, 10 to 12; Sundays, 11 to 3. 119 W. 22d St.

Dr. Koch's Sanitarium. Incorporated for the cure of Asthma, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Deafness, Consumption.

Free Examination Daily, 10 to 12; Sundays, 11 to 3. 119 W. 22d St.

Dr. Koch's Sanitarium. Incorporated for the cure of Asthma, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Deafness, Consumption.

Free Examination Daily, 10 to 12; Sundays, 11 to 3. 119 W. 22d St.

Dr. Koch's Sanitarium. Incorporated for the cure of Asthma, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Deafness, Consumption.

Free Examination Daily, 10 to 12; Sundays, 11 to 3. 119 W. 22d St.

Dr. Koch's Sanitarium. Incorporated for the cure of Asthma, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Deafness, Consumption.

Free Examination Daily, 10 to 12; Sundays, 11 to 3. 119 W. 22d St.

Dr. Koch's Sanitarium. Incorporated for the cure of Asthma, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Deafness, Consumption.

Free Examination Daily, 10 to 12; Sundays, 11 to 3. 119 W. 22d St.

Dr. Koch's Sanitarium. Incorporated for the cure of Asthma, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Deafness, Consumption.

"Whitehouse" "Whitehouse" (We Keep Everything You Wear.)

8th Ave. and 49th St. (Six Buildings). ANNOUNCEMENT.

We wish to announce to the public the Spring opening of our enlarged and improved stores, where our choice stock of Men's, Boys' and Children's CLOTHING, HATS, SHOES AND FURNISHINGS must be seen to be appreciated.

Our aim has always been to give better goods at lower prices than can be found elsewhere, and our standing to-day is our reward and speaks for itself. We want the public to know the name of "Whitehouse" as "Reliability."

From time to time we will offer special sales or inducements and will announce them in the daily papers. It will pay you to watch our advertisements. Our store is the largest of its kind on the west side. Our goods are right, stylish, new and snappy. Give us a call and look us over. Don't forget our Ladies' Shoe Department.

During the opening week we will present each purchaser with a substantial souvenir. Open evenings to accommodate everybody.